NIPPON WAGES LOSING FIGHT IN PHILIPPINES

PLANES CUT OFF AID FOR LEYTE GARRISON

General MacArthur's Headquarters, Philippines, Tuesday, Nov. 28 (AP)—American Leyte-based planes dropped 235 tons of bombs on Japanese airdromes on Cebu and Negros and at Davao Friday, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's communique said today.

Thirty Japanese planes rose to intercept the American flight and eight were shot down.

Terrific rains brought ground fighting to a standstill in the Ormoc corridor. No American advances were reported.

American successes in the air, at sea and on the ground today emphasized the desperate but losing fight Japan is putting up on Leyte island to retain her hold on the Philippines.

The steady attrition suffered by all branches of Nippon's forces was becoming noticeable. Japanese continued to fight doggedly for the Ormoc corridor on northwestern Leyte but their resistance was decreasing steadily, said Monday's communique.

Inbound Convoys Smashed

For three consecutive days Japanese efforts to reinforce and supply the Leyte garrison have been thwarted by American warplanes based on the island. Inbound convoys were spotted and smashed. It was estimated that at least 17,000 enemy troops have been lost in the reinforcement attempts since Leyte was taken.

Nineteen convoys were smashed. (Adm. Chester W. Nimitz reported Sunday that 14 enemy ships, including a heavy cruiser and a destroyer, were sunk and 72 Japanese planes destroyed by American carrier aircraft in a sweep over the Manila area last Friday. Four additional cargo ships and an oiler were damaged. The results still were incomplete.)

The American advance down the Ormoc corridor was painfully slow, hampered by stubborn resistance and sodden terrain. A field dispatch said an enemy stand was expected in the hills three miles south of Limon, the mountain village which American forces captured November 23 after weeks of bitter fighting.

Elements of the 32nd infantry division were working through hills on the eastern side of the road to close that area to Nipponese who had filtered through to the north to threaten the American supply road on the Carigara bay coastline.

CORDELL HULL

Secretary Of State Hull Gives Up Job

BY JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Washington, Nov. 27 (AP)—With "inexpressible disappointment" that he can not finish his task of organizing world peace, weary and work-worn Cordell Hull today yielded the position of secretary of state to his dynamic young lieutenant, Edward R. Stettinius, Jr.

President Roosevelt submitted the promotion of the 44-year-old undersecretary to the Senate about three hours after announcing the resignation of Hull, whom he praised as the "father of the United Nations." Senate approval was predicted prompt confirmation of the appointment.

In his letter of resignation, tendered last Tuesday, Hull told the president "it is a supreme tragedy to me personally" to be unable to continue the work of post-war world organization. But his health, he said, forces him to step aside.

He was 73 years old Oct. 2 and that day was his last at the state department. He has been ill of a

Detroit Group Arrested For Illicit Ration Stamp Traffic

Detroit, Nov. 27 (AP)—Accused of a wide-scale trafficking in gasoline ration coupons, obtained in holdups and burglaries, nine men and three women were arrested today.

Police are holding eight men, including the owner of a gasoline station, one man and the three women having been released.

The Office of Price Administration charged that the group had obtained coupons for more than half a million gallons of gasoline in holding up truck drivers and robbing gasoline stations and gasoline company offices during the last three months. The coupons, the OPA charged, were sold to a downtown Detroit gasoline station operator whom it accused of doing a large business selling gasoline at 60 cents a gallon to a select group of customers without coupons.

In addition to those arrested police also detained four gasoline station attendants as witnesses. Detectives John Lefew and Thomas Patterson of the police holdup squad, said their investigation indicated that about 40,000 gallons of gasoline had been sold from the one station during the last two months.

Describing the gang's operations Lefew and Patterson said they ransacked the cabs of gasoline tank trucks while drivers were making deliveries or making stops for other purposes. The officers also said the gang figured in at least two out-state burglaries. In one of them, they said, the Jaycox Oil Corporation offices in Belleville were robbed of coupons for more than 85,000 gallons of gasoline. At the Standard Oil company office in Dearborn coupons for 9,000 gallons of gasoline and 2,000 gallons of fuel oil were taken.

The detectives said that the stolen coupons initially were sold for eight cents apiece and later for 15 cents.

CANALS BLOCKED

London, Nov. 27 (AP)—The British air ministry announced tonight two of Germany's principal canals were blocked by RAF Lancasters attacking the night of November 21.

throat ailment, followed by exhaustion, ever since and for the last five weeks has been under treatment at Bethesda, Md., Naval hospital.

On the day he received Hull's letter, the president replied that the resignation "has hit me between wind and water"—a nautical term for a grievous blow. The letters were made public by the White House.

"When the organization of the United Nations is set up," the president wrote, "I shall continue to pray that you as the father of the United Nations may preside over its first session."

"That has nothing to do with whether you are secretary of state or not at the time, but should go to you as the one person in all the world who has done the most to make this great plan for peace an effective fact."

Selection of Stettinius, former chairman of U. S. Steel corporation, placed a relative newcomer to diplomacy in control of this government's foreign affairs machinery on the eve of one of history's most critical periods. Together with the fourth-term president he will be responsible for maintaining American leadership in the move to bring a peaceful and prosperous world out of the suffering and devastation of this war.

Prompt senatorial approval of the appointment was freely predicted although many ranking members had favored their old colleague and long-time associate, War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes for the top cabinet spot. Vice President Henry A. Wallace had also been mentioned, reportedly with strong labor backing.

WHISKY QUOTAS ARE INCREASED

Holiday Celebrities Get Extra Supplies To Help With Cheer

Lansing, Nov. 27 (AP)—December holiday celebrants will have extra supplies of whisky to help their parties along, the liquor control commission announced today. It issued orders granting ration card holders the right to buy an extra fifth-gallon or quart of whisky in December, increasing private vendors' supplies of whisky available for sale, and allowing small drinking places larger whisky quotas for that month.

Regular punch No. 16 on ration cards will be valid from Dec. 1 through Dec. 16, the commission ordered, while "bonus" punch No. 17 will be valid from Dec. 18 through Dec. 30, each entitling the card holder to buy a fifth gallon, quart bottle or two pints of whisky. Only whisky is rationed.

Private vendors of liquor (especially designated distributors popularly known as SDD's) who have been limited previously to 80 per cent of their liquor quotas in whisky and 20 per cent in other beverage liquors, will be allowed 100 per cent of the quotas in whisky plus 20 per cent of other liquors, the commission ordered.

Establishments licensed to sell liquor by the glass who have quotas of six cases or less per two weeks' distribution period will be allowed an extra case per period in December, or two extra cases. Larger operators' quotas remain unchanged.

The commission said it had built its stocks of non-rationed liquors in anticipation of a big holiday demand.

BULLET KILLS BUNNO BOY, 16, AT BRAMPTON

YOUNG HUNTER IS FOUND DEAD ON HIGHWAY

John "Jack" Bunno, 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Bunno, Brampton, was instantly killed while walking on Highway M-35 about a half mile south of Brampton when he was struck by a bullet from a high-powered rifle. It is Delta county's first fatality of the deer season.

The shot that killed Bunno is believed to have been fired by Mike Eagle, a neighbor, who was watching a rutabaga patch near his home and who fired the only shot from a high-powered rifle in that area during the afternoon, as far as officers can learn.

Eagle told officers he thought he saw a deer cross the field from east to west and he fired at what he thought was a deer as it stood on the highway west of him.

He walked to the railroad right-of-way where he thought the animal stood when he fired and not finding anything went back to the highway where he found the body of the Bunno boy. Eagle went to Brampton immediately and authorities were summoned.

Hill In Temple
The bullet had struck the boy in the left temple, emerging near the right ear. Bunno, who had hunted in the afternoon, had had supper at the home of Albert Caswell, who lives on a township road that runs east and west and abuts the field which Eagle was watching. This was after 5 o'clock. He then started for home. He walked the roadway from east to west which runs along the field and then started southward on M-35 to go to his home. The Bunno farm adjoins that of Eagle.

The accident was investigated by state police, conservation officers and members of the county sheriff's department. The body was removed to the Kelley funeral home.

Surviving are the parents, a twin sister, Jacqueline, and the following brothers and sisters, Floyd of Gladstone, Dorothy of Racine, Wis., Mrs. Donald Russell of Gladstone and Edward at home.

(By The Associated Press)

The death toll of Michigan's deer hunting season stood at 25 tonight, gunfire killing 16 of them, including four who died from bullet wounds during the week-end. The state conservation department reported at Lansing hunting conditions were fair to poor in the north woods, wet snow having fallen in the upper peninsula and rain in the northern part of the lower peninsula.

The department said hunters have transported 4,349 deer and 149 bears across the Straits of Mackinac, 1,240 deer into Wisconsin, 155 deer and two bears on the Menominee ferry to the lower peninsula and 124 deer and six bears on the Manistique ferry.

Frank Dickerson of Saginaw, shot by Harry St. Johns, also of Saginaw, 12 miles north of Soo Junction near the Tahquamenon river, died en route to a hospital.

John Bunno, 16, of Brampton, was killed when he was shot through the head by a stray bullet while hunting a half mile south of Brampton. George Lutherman, 17, of Garden City, shot accidentally in the abdomen by a hunting companion, died in a Bay City hospital. He was hunting near Twin Lakes, six miles southeast of Prudenville.

Wayne Alonzo Fisher 9, of Cadillac, hunting near Cadillac with his father, was fatally wounded when his father's shotgun discharged accidentally.

Consumers Power Rate Cut Ordered

Lansing, Nov. 27 (AP)—The state public health commission today ordered the Consumers Power company, serving most of the lower peninsula of Michigan, to reduce its December bills to 494,482 customers by 75 per cent.

The action was ordered to reduce the amount which the company is liable for federal excess profits taxes. The commission said the company's gross revenues would be reduced between $3,750,000 and $4,000,000, compared with an estimated excess profits tax liability of $5,000,000 this year.

The rate reduction affects only the month of December.

Carrier Fleet Bags 48 Ships In Manila Bay

U. S. Pacific Fleet Headquarters, Pearl Harbor, Nov. 27 (AP)—At least 48 Japanese vessels were sunk or damaged by carrier planes of the U. S. Third fleet in the Friday strike on the Manila Bay area.

Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, in a communique today revising previous reports of the attack, added two ships sunk and 23 damaged to the original score.

The total number of Japanese ships sunk or damaged during November in steady pounding of the enemy's supply center for the Philippines thus is increased to 151.

Helicat fighters and anti-aircraft fire from the American surface ships downed 59 Japanese planes. Twenty-nine more were destroyed on the ground and an additional 32 probably were damaged on the ground.

Avengers and Helldivers ranged over most of Luzon and adjacent islands, carrying out one of the heaviest attrition blows in weeks on the Nipponese supply line to American-invaded Leyte Island in the central Philippines.

CHINESE FACING CRITICAL TIMES

Last American Airbase Abandoned; Kweiyang Seems Doomed

BY SPENCER MOOSA
Chungking, Tuesday, Nov. 28 (AP)—All American and British Nationals in Kweichow province and the unoccupied portions of Hunan province were ordered to leave as two Japanese forces surged today toward Kweiyang, capital of Kweichow.

A Chinese communique said the Japanese westward drive from Luchow had toppled Hochih and that the invaders were less than 140 miles southeast of Kweiyang. Another enemy column was headed toward Kweichow from Pochang in Hunan province.

Missionaries, Red Cross workers and representatives of various civilian agencies were affected by the notification which gave them ample time to escape.

Generally it was felt in Chungking that the next few months would be the most critical for China since the war began in 1937.

Fall of Kweiyang would place the invaders in position to strike toward Chungking, 200 miles to the northwest.

Another Japanese force moving through South China toward French Indo-China forced the abandonment and destruction of the last forward American air base in South China at Nanning—the seventh to fall before the current Japanese offensive designed, apparently, to knock out U. S. air strength in the Chinese hinterland.

Government Crisis Unsolved In Italy As Cabinet Resigns

BY GEORGE BRIA
Rome, Nov. 27 (AP)—Leaders of the six Italian political parties making up the committee of national liberation held two more meetings today without finding a solution to the Italian government crisis caused by yesterday's resignation of Premier Ivanoe Bonomi and his cabinet.

There appeared no prospect that a settlement would be reached for several days.

At the end of today's first meeting, the parties were understood to have sent a delegation to inform Bonomi that they considered him unable to resolve the crisis as premier of a new cabinet unless the ministry of foreign affairs were given to Count Carlo Sforza. Crown Prince Umberto, lieutenant general of the realm, continued to confer with party leaders.

Bomb Blast Razes Village In England

Burton-On-Trent, Eng., Nov. 27 (AP)—A terrific explosion in an underground munitions storage depot today killed at least 20 persons injured 11, trapped 30 and blitzed a countryside.

Five bodies had been recovered tonight by rescue workers hampered by craters from bombs tossed up through the earth's surface which devastated a village and surrounding farmlands.

CLIMAX NEAR IN BATTLE OF ROER VALLEY

GERMANS THROWN BACKWARD WITH HEAVY LOSSES

BY AUSTIN BEALMEAR
Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force, Paris, Nov. 27 (AP)—German defenders of the Cologne plain were driven back south of Julich tonight to the west bank of the Roer River—best natural barrier short of the Rhine—as the U. S. Ninth dealt hammer blows alongside the U. S. First in the fateful battle of the Reich.

The U. S. First army, pressing the enemy back a mile and a half with heavy losses, was deep inside two strongholds to the south within two and a half and four miles of the Roer. A staff officer declared that given a break from the weather, the river soon would be reached.

Enemy Sees Peril
As the German high command threw in fresh troops to meet this mounting peril to its industrial Ruhr and Rhineland, the Saar basin—second only to the Ruhr as a source of the enemy's war might—was invaded anew by the resurgent U. S. Third army which nowhere along its 60-mile front was now more than 16 miles from the Reich after gains up to six miles.

U. S. heavy bombers flew close support to the U. S. Seventh army for the first time, bombing rail yards at Offenburg, 10 miles southeast of Strasbourg.

As elements of Lt. Gen. William H. Simpson's Ninth army battled bitterly house-to-house in Kolar, two miles west of Julich, other forces fought half-way through Kirchberg on the west bank of the river a mile and a half south of Julich.

Fields Are Quagmires
Hammering at Julich along a 10-mile front, the Ninth on its north flank sent armored forces ahead some 500 yards and on the south advanced 500 yards north.

SOVIETS DRIVE INTO SLOVAKIA

Carpathian Mountains Crossed Along The Polish Frontier

BY W. W. HERCHER

London, Tuesday, Nov. 28 (AP)—Russian troops in a new six-mile penetration of northern Slovakia yesterday crossed the 2,700-foot Carpathian Mountains along the Polish frontier as other units in the south struck to within 11 miles of the big north Hungarian rail center of Satoraljauihely, a Moscow communique announced last night.

Sweeping through 50 more hamlets in the axis puppet state, Col. Gen. Ivan Petrov's Fourth Ukrainian army widened its front to 75 miles from a point west of the Dukla Pass in the north down to the Hungarian frontier.

The fresh strike from the north further imperiled the enemy strongholds of Presov and Kasza (Kosice), already threatened by central columns only 25 miles to the east.

Moscow did not announce any gains on the Hungarian front, and Berlin said fighting had slackened around Budapest, where the Paris radio reported grave disorders had broken out, with workers fighting the Germans inside a capital deprived of gas, electricity and water.

NO FORTUNES

Lansing, Nov. 27 (AP)—The state board of elections today opened eight trunks which had been sequestered by the state as unclaimed property, with thoughts of possibly rich treasure in the minds of board members—but discovered they were filled mostly with old corporation records.

PATRICK J. HURLEY

TROUBLE SHOOTER — President Roosevelt has nominated Maj. Gen. Patrick J. Hurley for ambassador to China, regarded as one of the most difficult diplomatic assignments in the country. Hurley is already in Chungking with a group of U. S. experts seeking to speed up China's war efforts.

HURLEY NAMED ENVOY TO CHINA

Tough Ambassadorship Given To Critic Of Roosevelt

BY EDWARD H. HIGGS

Washington, Nov. 27 (AP)—Major Gen. Patrick J. Hurley, trouble shooter, was nominated by President Roosevelt today for one of the nation's toughest diplomatic assignments, ambassador to China.

Hurley is taking over the post Clarence Gauss gave up at the time Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell was pulled out of the China-Burma command after a clash with the Chinese leader, Chiang Kai Shek.

The president has said, however, that there was no connection between Gauss' resignation and Stilwell's removal as Chiang's chief of staff.

Hurley, a jack of all trades who has handled many secret assignments for the president since the war began, already is in Chungking with Donald M. Nelson, former war production board chief, trying to speed up China's war efforts.

Shortly after Pearl Harbor, president Roosevelt picked him to run international errands. His first job took him to Australia with a bag of gold to buy ships and crews to run supplies to beleaguered Bataan.

Then he took on the assignment as the first American minister to New Zealand. Five months later, he bobbed up again in Washington and then set out for Moscow on another secret job. Stalin liked him and told President Roosevelt so.

After that he trekked to the Middle East as the president's personal envoy, then to China and to the Cairo and Teheran conferences.

Although Hurley, a Republican, has been a salty critic of President Roosevelt's domestic policies, the two men obviously get along well on foreign policy.

War Loan Reaches $810,000,000 Mark

Washington, Nov. 27 (AP)—The drive to borrow five billion dollars from individuals in the Sixth War Loan had reached the $810,000,000 mark today.

This was close to the schedule that treasury officials have mapped out for the November 20—December 16 national effort.

Leaders of the drive were enthusiastic over the response of the people to the third great bond appeal of 1944.

Figures announced today represent money actually on deposit in Federal Reserve banks and other government depositories through Saturday, or roughly one week of the four week campaign. However, these totals necessarily are several days behind actual sales.

Corsets Fancy, But No Stretch Added

London, Nov. 27 (AP)—Britain's stout women are going to get a break, but the government isn't stretching a point to grant it.

The board of trade announced tonight the ending on Dec. 7 of all restrictions on corset styles—with the exception of that limiting the use of rubber. This means the lid's off on the use of metal, cloth, lace and trimmings.

TOKYO RAIDED AGAIN BY U. S. SUPER FORTS

BANGKOK BLASTED; NOT ONE B-29 IS LOST

BY W. H. MOBLEY

Washington, Nov. 27 (AP)—The first coordinated Superfortress strike from east and west today clamped down a giant aerial pincers on the Japanese.

A "sizeable force" from the new 21st bomber command's base on Saipan Island in the Marianas beat at Tokyo for an hour and a half in the second such thrust in four days.

A flight of "substantial force" from India bases of the 20th bomber command, was hurled across the Bay of Bengal and blasted with results called "good" at the vital Japanese-dominated rail center of Bangkok in Thailand.

Opposition "Nil"

Not one of the great B-29s was lost to enemy action in either strike, a communique from the 20th Air Force reported several hours afterward.

Opposition by either fighters or anti-aircraft over Tokyo was reported "virtually nil." Fire from the ground at the Thailand capital was called "meager" and the huge bombers downed six, probably destroyed three more and damaged two of the opposing fighters.

The communique described targets in both strikes as "strategic industrial objectives." In the case of the Bangkok thrust by Maj. Gen. Curtis E. Le May's bombers from India, it was specified that these targets were railroad marshaling yards and repair facilities.

The "industrial waterfront" was the specific target of the Tokyo raiders, unquestionably with special attention to great airplane manufacturing plants in that area.

Both were daylight strikes, and the bombing at Bangkok was visual precision work from cloudless skies. At Tokyo the big planes encountered a heavy cloud cover and aimed their explosives by means of precision instruments. Results were not observed.

New Crews Used

"Reports from returning crews confirm direct hits upon the heart of the target," the afternoon communique said of the Bangkok thrust, "and the aggregate bombing results of all participating planes was described as good."

Preliminary strike photographs confirm the eye-witness appraisal of bomb damage.

The Tokyo run was only the second operation for Brig. Gen. Haywood S. Hansell's new 21st command. The existence of the force was announced only last Friday in the roar of its bombs crashing into Tokyo.

A dispatch from Saipan by Vern Haugland, Associated Press war correspondent, described the operation as an amazing display of sustained power, with few of the men who took part in the initial raid going back over the 3,000-mile round trip today.

SMALL BUSINESS NEEDS NO HELP

Banks Preparing Future Assistance, Lions Club Told

Banks at the present time are doing nothing to aid small businesses, said Carl G. Nelson, assistant to the president of the First National bank, at a meeting of the Lions club Monday evening. Mr. Nelson clarified this startling statement, however, with the explanation that small business generally does not need help now; money is plentiful, accounts receivable are practically non-existent and depleted inventories cannot be replaced beyond current selling needs.

Declaring that 92.5 percent of all businesses in the nation are classified as small business, Mr. Nelson defined them as follows: manufacturing institutions employing 100 or less persons; limited service and wholesale concerns doing $200,000 a year or less and retailers grossing $50,000 a year or less.

Ninety six percent of all retail establishments, 91.6 percent of all manufacturers and 77 percent of the wholesalers in the country come under the small business category, the speaker continued, and these groups employ 45 percent of the wage earning population.

Bankers are anticipating the postwar period when business will need assistance, and are making surveys and studies now in order to be in a position to be of help when necessity arises. Mr. Nelson listed four steps for heads of small business to follow in determining their need for future help. They were: one—make your postwar plans in writing; two—study your finances; and develop a program of future operation; three—estimate your credit needs; four—see your banker now.

It was announced during the meeting that the annual venison feed, together with a surprise novelty program, will be held at the Sherman hotel next Monday evening. Frederick Saykly was inducted as a member of the club.

Lansing—A free-for-all race for the presidency of the American Farm Bureau Federation already has begun developing in organization circles since Edward A. O'Neal incumbent and southern plantation operator is reported to have confided to friends that he will not seek re-election in 1945.

O'Neal is understood to favor another southerner as his successor, but some organization veterans hope to elect the next president from one of the midwest states where the Farm Bureau has large memberships.

Michigan, Ohio, and Iowa farm leaders already have been mentioned as possible candidates. Clark L. Brody of Lansing is the Michigan farm bureau, as well as an officer and director of several national co-operative organizations.

News From Men In The Service

Big Springs, Texas — 1st. Lt. John H. Zawada of Route 2, Bark River, Mich., recently arrived at the Big Spring Bombardier School and has been assigned to duty. Col. Ralph C. Rockwood, commanding officer, has announced.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Zawada of Schaffer, the lieutenant is a graduate of Escanaba High School and spent twenty months overseas, participating in five different campaigns in the European theatre. He was commissioned in Africa in August 1943.

The Big Spring school, one of the world's largest bombing colleges, graduates a new class of precision bombardiers every four weeks. The intensive 24 weeks' course qualifies these airmen for their appointment as officers in the Army Air Forces.

Seven Delta County, Mich. men are receiving their initial Naval indoctrination at the U. S. Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Illinois.

When their recruit training is completed, these men will receive a period of leave. They are: Leon E. Gravelle, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Gravelle, 636, N. 19th St.; William J. Rowley, 17, 601 N. 19th St.; Allen C. Hendrickson, 18, 1006 Sheridan Rd. all of Escanaba; Robert V. Thibault, 18, Nahma; James K. With the First U. S. Army in Germany—Capt. Willard E. Anderson, 903 S. 14th street, Escanaba, has been awarded the Bronze Star Medal for "meritorious service in connection with military operations against the enemy in France."

An order from the First U. S. Army announced the decoration today. Capt. Anderson is serving with a First Army advance company.

At a Mediterranean Port—When you step aboard, you know she's a proud ship, as she has every right to be.

This LCI (landing craft infantry) has engaged in five amphibious operations in the Mediterranean area. At Sicily, Salerno, Anzio, Elba and again in southern France, she helped to topple the house that Hitler built in Europe. What's more, her crew recently received an efficiency pennant from Rear Admiral Frank J. Lowry, Jr., USN, Commander of the Eighth Amphibious Force, thus becoming designated as the best craft of her type in this area.

Her commanding officer throughout most of the actions in which this LCI was involved was Lieutenant L. M. Browning, Jr., USNR, of Belmont, N. Y., since transferred to command of a division of LCI's. His executive officer, Ensign T. H. Phillips, USNR, of Kossuth, Miss., has since assumed command.

Their memories extend to the embryonic stage of amphibious warfare in the Mediterranean. They've been lucky, they admit, and their only near-catastrophe occurred at Anzio, when a German bomb exploded near them, knocking out their lights.

"That was our toughest time," recalls Ensign Phillips. "We were in the harbor for 12 days in succession, during which time we

Soon after they left their berth there, he recalls, an enemy shell struck the amphibious craft which had taken their place.

of each striking force at 40 Superfortresses, asserted "blind bombing" was necessary at both Tokyo and Bangkok, and claimed little damage was done. ### GAASTRA BONDS APPROVED

Lansing, Nov. 27 (AP)—The municipal finance commission today authorized the village of Gaastra in Iron county to issue $40,000 of general obligation bonds to finance replacement of its water supply system. The bonds will mature serially, 1945 to 1964, with option of prior payment, and may bear not more than 4 per cent interest, the commission ruled.

CLIMAX NEAR IN BATTLE OF ROER VALLEY

east of Altdorf, three miles south of the town.

Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' doughboys to the south fought into the center of Langerwehe, 14 miles inside Germany and the last major road center before the Roer, four miles east. Eight miles south they seized most of the forest anchor town of Hurtgen, two and a half miles from the river.

Five miles southwest of Duren they fought into Grosshau, which earlier was plastered by artillery. Like the Ninth, the First was fighting the bitterest kind of operation over a battlefield turned into a quagmire by rain and snow.

Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's forces burst across the Saar's western frontier at a new point along a three-mile front, and were driving on three Saar towns after gains of up to a mile.

They lengthened their lines inside Germany to 19 miles. To the southwest, they slashed through the old Maginot line at a second point and gained six miles in an advance close to Merten, only one mile west of the Saar border.

Maginot Line Behind To the southeast, they captured the road center of St. Avold, where the Maginot line was breached yesterday, fought north to within two miles of the Saar frontier, and east two miles to within 13 miles of the basin's industrial city of Saarbrücken.

From north to south, the winter offensive of General Eisenhower was forging ahead, meeting its greatest test of strength on the Cologne plain, which Field Marshal Karl Rudolf Gerd Von Rundstedt apparently has chosen to defend at the expense of his southern front.

The British Second army scored a gain of a third of a mile in a line-straightening attack north of Gellenkirchen in Germany.

Seventh army forces widened the Saverne Gap positions leading to Strasbourg and pushed on about four miles to a point 12 miles north of the city within sight of the Rhine.

Breaking through the Saales Pass out on the Alsace plain, other forces of the Seventh seized the city of Molsheim, 11 miles southwest of Strasbourg.

Mulhouse Cleared Out

At the extreme end of the front, the French First army cleared the Mulhouse area of the enemy with drives to the east and west, and cut the road from Belfort to Mulhouse thus sewing up any Germans still pocketed in the gap.

The British Second army in eastern Holland cleaned up the enemy's once menacing salient west of the Maas River except for three or four pockets.

BY CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

London, Nov. 27 (P)— In the greatest all-fighter aerial battle in history, 500 Mustangs downed at least 98 German interceptors today, boosting American fighter kills in the past 24 hours to a record-smashing 212.

This raised the total U. S. Eighth Air Force score for the same period to 239 German fighters downed.

The unofficial number of enemy planes destroyed today was lifted to 102 with the announcement that at least four more German planes were riddled by concentrated Mustang machinegun fire as they attempted to leave the ground.

The American fighter pilots engaged more than 400 Focke-Wulfs and Messerschmitts while strafing airports and military transport centers in northwest Germany. It was the greatest test of fighter against fighter and pilot against pilot of the war. The German area was filled with planes darting at each other in running dogfights which covered several hundred miles.

Rouge Plant Strike Leaves 7,000 Idle

Detroit, Nov. 27. (AP)—A Ford Motor Co. spokesman said tonight a strike of 2,637 employees in the Rouge plant made more than 7,000 workers idle, closed the production and magnesium foundries and hampered production in the new steel foundry and foundry machine shop.

The strikes, precipitated by a dispute over working schedules began in the production foundry when 20 millwrights left their jobs. Soon afterward 30 millwrights in the magnesium foundry walked out in sympathy with production foundry men. With those two work stoppages the company announced it was forced to send home 4,500 employees.

Pete Putvin Writes Of Leyte Invasion

Munising—The following letter was received recently by Mr. and Mrs. George Putvin from their son, William "Pete" Putvin of the U. S. N. R., who enlisted in the navy on March 8, 1944. When the letter was received by his parents "Pete" was in the invasion in the Philippines, and is stationed on an A.P.A. Dear Mom and Dad:

Received notice today we could write about our landing at Leyte. An A.P.A. is an attack transport so I was right in there. I had only been aboard about two weeks before the invasion so I was pretty excited. It was a very interesting sight watching the warships plaster hell out of the beach where our troops were to land. We saw only a couple enemy planes and they never stayed around long enough to drop any eggs. The only Jap I saw was a dead one floating in the water. We were lucky to have gotten out before the Jap fleet came out there because we would have made good targets for their cruisers and battleships with their 8 and 16 inch guns. We also picked up some survivors from the ships sunk so had a good account of the sea battle, also received a Tokyo radio report and when comparing it with the survivors' report we found the Tokyo report was greatly exaggerated.

I am back behind the counter again working in the ship's store. Those years in the drug store are helping me out after all. One thing I don't get a chance to use any sales talk; it's take it or leave it here on the ship.

As Ever, Bill.

Urged Rotarians To Join In Social And Civic Discussions

Escanaba Rotarians and members of other civic organizations in the city yesterday were urged by Charles Folio, Escanaba High school faculty member, to participate in discussions of social and civic affairs which will be included in the adult education program sponsored by the Escanaba board of education.

In a talk to the Escanaba Rotary Club, Folio said that these discussions have become increasingly important because of the social, civic and occupational problems facing the world today.

Among these problems is the adjustment of the returning veteran to ourselves, and ourselves to him; the racial, class and other social conflicts which demand tolerance and understanding.

There is need for better understanding between industry and labor, between the farmer and business. Only by discussion can this understanding be brought about, and all groups come to know their dependence on the other and the recognition that they have problems which are often mutual, Folio added.

To assist in these discussions there will be a group discussion leadership meeting next Thursday night, he announced.

"The town meeting was the American way once. Let's make it the American way again," he concluded.

DAIRY SUBSIDY MAY BE KILLED

Payments Now Total 60 Cents Per 100 Pounds

Washington, D. C.—In the next two or three months strong efforts will be made to curtail or perhaps eliminate the dairy production payments, now totaling 60 cents per 100 pounds of milk in Delta county, as a dangerous subsidy.

The move will be made in Congress in connection with consideration of a bill to extend the life and increase the borrowing power of the Commodity Credit Corporation, which makes the payments.

The opposition against these incentive or production payments comes from a large number of Congressmen, farm organizations such as the National Cooperative Milk Producers Federation and the National Council of Farm Cooperatives, and, it is claimed, from the farmers themselves.

One of the most effective argument against such payments is that civilians should be able to pay their food bills now, rather than require returning servicemen and even children to pay the bill in further years in the form of taxes.

Those in favor of production payments point out that, if it were not for the payments, prices would have to rise and an inflationary spiral would be started.

In Delta county a payment of 60 cents per 100 pounds will remain in effect until March 1945. The weighted average payment for July and August 1944 was 35 cents.

MINING FIRM'S MOVE AWAITED

Campbells Are Awarded
$2,631.91 Damages
Against Homer

Iron Mountain—Recently $2,631.91 in their action against the Homer Ore company, for unauthorized mining, removal and sale of 63,166 tons of ore from the Minckler mine, in Iron county, in which they have an undivided 1/24 interest, Mr. and Mrs. David H. Campbell, 803 East I, this city are awaiting the company's next move on more than 200,000 tons of ore which have been taken and shipped from the property since the suit was started.

Testimony in the unique case through the lower and state courts was watched with interest by mining men of the region, who see in it a significant precedent for all similar mining operations. Under the state supreme court finding, the Homer company appears liable to the Campbells, in the same 1/24 ownership share of the net profit on the 200,000 tons of ore taken out.

The Campbells, awaiting action by the Homer company, have made no further move. "The state supreme court made it clear that the company is liable to us, on whatever ore has since been taken out, under the same terms as we were paid for the first 63,000 tons," Mr. Campbell said. "There is no immediate move for us to make. It is the mining company's next move."

Acquired 24th Interest

On Jan. 15, 1913, testimony in the case brought out, Paul N. Minckler, owner of the tract, made a lease to George L. Woodworth for a term of 50 years, with unconditional right of termination on 60 days notice. The tract had not then been mined. Mr. and Mrs. Campbell's 24th-interest was acquired on Dec. 24, 1936, expressly subject to the lease.

Subsequently, the Homer company acquired all of the lessee's interest, besides one-sixth of the fee, and thereafter made an agreement with all the other owners of interests in the title except the Campbells, extending the term to January, 1987; increasing the minimum royalty; doing away with weighing by the railroad company and providing for mixing the ore before weighing.

The Campbells objected to amendment of the lease on the ground that it not only failed to reasonably protect the fee-owners, but reduced the revenue from the property so as to greatly lessen its value.

It was subsequently claimed by the Campbells that ore mined from the Minckler had been taken out underground, mixed with ore from the adjoining Homer mine, before weighing, and was brought to the surface through the Homer shaft, during the period from Jan. 1 to April 1, 1941, a practice which the Homer company admitted in court.

With The AEF

Kenneth L. Dixon

(Advance). On the Western Front, Nov. 21 (Delayed) (P)—By rights you could hardly call it a routine combat patrol. For one thing, it failed to accomplish its mission, it was a motorized patrol, and that's strictly not routine for infantry. There were other reasons, too.

The order came down, "Get us a German prisoner and bring him back alive," and Company B drew the short straw. In late afternoon two jeep loads went half-balling down a muddy road toward the enemy. Lt. Howard Bell of New York and Staff Sgt. Edward Dagenhart of Dodge City, Kansas, holder of the Silver Star with Oak Leaf Cluster, commanded the two groups.

A mile from the enemy front the bespectacled Dagenhart spotted a German in a field. He was too far away for capture, but he had to be silenced or he might give an alarm. So the Kansas killed the German with the jeep's machine gun, without stopping.

Five miles inside enemy territory then skidded to a halt in front of a road block and hit the dirt. Some 25 Germans behind the barricade poured out merciless fire.

Somehow Cpl. Walter Votz of Lawrence, Kans., managed to back his jeep to cover. Dagenhart grabbed the machine gun again but it jammed.

Pfc. John Humpal of Philadelphia and Pfc. Bob Teitz of Winona, Minn., kept firing a Browning automatic rifle until their ammunition was gone. They then ran out of carbine ammunition, too.

"We had more in the other jeep," Dagenhart said later, but we couldn't get to it across the road." So the boys began slinging grenades.

When the Germans took cover the fire eased off, the patrol piled into the jeeps, turned around and tore out for home.

They hadn't accomplished their mission, but they had killed several Germans and were lucky to be alive.

But it wasn't over. "We only had about a mile left to go when the Krauts stopped us again," said Dagenhart. "This time they had us surrounded. Bullets were coming from bushes, trees, even a nearby house. We all hit the side of the road."

But now they had rifle ammunition again. After a 20-minute fight they managed to reach the jeeps in the middle of the road, but somebody had to cover the getaway before they dared jump up and expose themselves in the vehicles.

So Dagenhart, Pfc. Jimmy Oris of Johnstown, Pa., and Pvt. Leo Kell of Pensacola, Fla., elected themselves.

While the others jumped into the jeeps the holding trio lay there firing. The two jeeps got 290 yards down the road, rounded a curve and halted.

Oris, Kell and Dagenhart set a brand-new record for the 200-yard dash, with plenty of starting guns

SOLDIERS HURT NEAR NESTORIA

Army Truck Overturned,
Two Are Seriously Injured

Marquette—Twelve soldiers in a U. S. army detachment were injured, two seriously, when an army truck in which they were riding skidded off the highway, and overturned Sunday morning about two miles from Nestoria.

All of the injured were brought to St. Luke's hospital, Marquette, and it was learned that two of them, Pvt. Kenneth Neil and Pvt. J. H. Gibson, were suffering from spinal fractures. Their condition was serious, but Capt. Richard S. Brooks, area commander, said both had a "good chance" of recovery.

Neil and Gibson were in a group of 19 soldiers who were being transported in a truck which left Negaunee about 6:15 a. m. and was bound for Camp Sidnaw, where the soldiers had been assigned to duty as guards at the prisoner-of-war camp.

It was snowing as the 2 1-2 ton truck, driven by Pvt. Karl E. Jessup, left Negaunee and the snow continued as they proceeded on their way to Camp Sidnaw. For some distance beyond Negaunee the snow was wet, leaving the highway slushy, but in the Nestoria area the temperature was freezing and the dirt road on which the accident occurred was icy.

Pvt. Jessup told army officers who investigated the accident that the truck, traveling at moderate speed, skidded on the icy road and got out of his control. It plunged down an eight-foot embankment and turned over, but was not badly damaged.

The Test Comes

WITH the resignation of Cordell Hull, aged bulwark of the Roosevelt cabinet, the people of America will be interested in observing whether the president uses the highest office within his official family to pay a political debt or will name for the post a qualified successor to one of the nation's most eminent statesmen ever to serve in the State Department in our national government.

President Roosevelt, even before the beginning of his fourth term in the presidency, has an opportunity to disprove much of the criticism directed at his administration in the last campaign, by appointing as successor to Mr. Hull, a qualified statesman who possesses at least some of the attributes of one who through the greatest emergency in this nation's history has held the confidence and the respect of the American people. If President Roosevelt chooses to use the highest office in his cabinet merely to pay a political debt it will be an act that may well bring disunity to the people of America at a time when a firmly cemented unity is most necessary.

The fear that Mr. Hull has himself, held as to what type of man might be named as his successor, is proven by the fact that he has persisted in office to the very limit of his fast dwindling strength. He has submitted his resignation only because he knows that failing health makes such a course an absolute necessity.

No man, in all the history of the nation ever to head our State Department has so firmly held the confidence and respect of the American people as has Mr. Hull. The necessity for his resignation constitutes a fervent and honest national regret.

How President Roosevelt will use his power to name Mr. Hull's successor remains to be determined.

U. P. Population Drops

STATISTICS compiled by the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis disclose that there has been an exodus of a considerable number of people from the Upper Peninsula during the war period.

In 1940, the Upper Peninsula had a population of 322,161, but the Federal Reserve Bank report reveals this figure had dropped to 265,221 by November, 1943. The declines were not uniform throughout the region, however, for the decreases ranged from 2.1 per cent in Chippewa county to 21.9 per cent in Gogebic county, with Delta county in the upper bracket with a 17.4 per cent decrease.

Chippewa county's fine showing can be attributed to the locks and military defense activities at Sault Ste. Marie, which through depression and war has been the steadiest communities in the Upper Peninsula. Not all of Delta county's loss of about 6,000 inhabitants can be attributed to flow of men to the armed forces for only half of the total, or roughly 3,000, have gone into military service. The rest have gone to Detroit, Flint, Chicago and other war production centers.

The Federal Reserve Bank report states there are already signs of a drift of workers back to the Upper Peninsula from the industrial centers, due to the expectation that war contracts will be cancelled in the near future. Whether more return to the Upper Peninsula in sizable numbers, the report points out, will be dependent upon employment opportunities in their home communities. Cities like Escanaba, which have planned for the postwar period by bringing in new industries, are certain to attract more homecomers in the future.

Boom or Collapse?

A LITTLE booklet, "Boom or Collapse at the end of the War," published by the Brookings Institution, Washington, D. C., is getting wide distribution through the banking and business channels of the country, and many people are sending copies to their friends.

The brochure by Moulton and Schletterbeck, well known economists, goes back to the aftermath of the War of 1812, and follows through the economic consequences of every other one of the country's wars to date. Since the question of what is likely to happen to American business after the present war is of supreme consequence to millions, the publication has seized the popular fancy in a way unattained by any other economic or financial history of recent years.

The argument is, in a general way, that there is a brief period of hesitancy after a war, followed by a short boom, a financial and trade collapse that is usually a little longer than the initial boom, then a longer period of recovery and prosperity, and then a real smash. At least, this sequence has followed every other war we have had, and there is reason to believe that it might prevail again. We may "cushion" the drops but it will be difficult to prevent them entirely.

No one knows, of course, what is coming, but there are some favorable factors, according to the writers. A retarded rate of demobilization will "stagger" the problem of soldier re-employment at home. There will be greater reconstruction requirements than ever abroad, with a demand for American goods and services. There will be a great domestic shortage of consumer goods. There will also have to be deferred maintenance of replacement of industrial equipment, thus giving many tangled situations a chance to straighten out gradually. The rise in prices thus far has been much less pronounced than after the last war, and there should be less danger of extensive inflation.

The unprecedented size of the employment problem following this war will be a leading unfavorable factor. There will be more difficulties this time, in the re-conversion of industries. Wartime taxes have been so heavy that in many cases working capital may be impaired, but no one knows yet what the full effects of the war will be on the finance of corporations. Manufacturers will have to overcome if possible an unfavorable cost-price ratio, for wages have risen faster than the wholesale prices of manufactured products.

Conclusions are that the business outlook, on the whole, will be less favorable than it was following the last war. Government is going to play an increasing role in the transition period, and the country's business future will depend largely upon the degree of stabilization it can reach during that period. The final conclusion is that unless genuine progress toward the solution of the unfavorable factors is made during the first two years following the war, the country will find itself little if any better off than it was before the war. Since it took a war to bring any measure of prosperity, we are warranted in some sober reflection at this time on the mess we are in, and the chances for our survival afterward.

Human Carelessness

HUMAN lives have been taken needlessly during the current deer hunting season in the Upper Peninsula because hunters have not observed the simple rules of safety in the woods.

Although only bucks may be taken legally in Michigan, some hunters quite obviously have been firing their high-powered rifles without first determining whether the deer had horns extending at least three inches from the skull. The trouble is that some hunters shoot at "anything that moves." In such cases, they actually commit murder.

WOHLRAB RETURNS TO U. P.

(Sault Ste. Marie News)
The appointment of A. H. Wohlrab as general manager of the Calumet and Hecla Consolidated Copper company, at Calumet, is of interest to the Upper Peninsula.

Mr. Wohlrab is a graduate of Michigan College of Mining and Technology, Houghton, and he is at present assistant general manager of the Hollinger property at Timmins, Ontario, one of the world's largest gold mines. He has had much experience with mining in the Copper Country and he is a former resident of Houghton and Calumet. He has a distinguished mining record and a large number of friends throughout the district.

The return of Mr. Wohlrab as general manager of the peninsula's largest copper mining company is significant. It has been said that the copper mining industry of upper Michigan is on its last legs, but executives of Mr. Wohlrab's standing and ability never associate themselves with hopeless causes. His coming recalls the saying of a famous mining engineer and geologist that some day the country will come back to Michigan for its copper supplies.

The Copper Country may expect from now on a vigorous prosecution of the exploratory programs carried on so ably in recent years by such mining authorities as Endicott R. Lovell, William H. Schacht, and Albert Petermann. It is a well known fact that but a small part of the known copper formations there have ever been systematically prospected, and the inference is reasonable that further commercial lodes will be disclosed by careful investigation. The Copper Country is far from down and out. In fact, the present outlook is the best in years, and Mr. Wohlrab's many friends will greet his return to the district with hearty approval.

IT'S HARD TO BELIEVE

Q. The etymology of the word barnacle baffles me. Surely it does not stem in the word "barn" or does it?

A. The way this shellfish pest got its name is almost incredible, and please don't accuse me of making up the story. Naturalists of the Middle Ages believed that a certain kind of wild goose which visits England in the winter was born within the shells of the crustaceans, which, in turn, were thought to be the shell-like fruit of a tree growing by the seashore.

To the shellfish they gave the name "barnacle," a corruption of the French word barnacle (modern French: barnacle), a wild goose of the polar regions which spends the winter in Europe. The bird has the redundant English name of "barnacle goose," which means literally, "goose goose."

The incredulous theory of the marine origin of the goose was not disproved until about the year 1830, when it was finally recognized that the bird breeds quite normally within the Arctic Circle, and that "... a barnacle may be said to be a Crustacean fixed by its head and kicking the food into its mouth with its legs."

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington—The first voice within the Republican party to call for a chance of leadership in the light of the defeat of Nov. 7 has come, interestingly enough, from Robert R. McCormick of the Chicago Tribune.

Childs

In an interview in Montreal, the stout Colonel insisted that control of the GOP must be returned to "the West" if the party is ever to come into power. The Colonel went on to express his over-riding prejudice.

New York is dominated by the International Bankers, the brokerage houses, big industry. These elements, said the Colonel, have "much power in the Republican national convention, but very little influence with the American voters."

The Republican party, in the view of the Tribune's owner, must become a Nationalist party. It has, he argues, always been the party of Nationalism.

—HAS MUCH INFLUENCE—

To many people, the Colonel is a laughable figure. He is full of a strutting pomposity which makes him an easy subject for caricature. Laughable or not, the fact remains that he has a powerful channel of expression in the Middle West. And, more important, it seems to me, he expresses the view of many Middle Westerners, some of them highly articulate like Gerald L. K. Smith, and others full of an inarticulate resentment of "Eastern Domination."

What is not generally known about the Colonel is that in the spring of this year he himself had definite ambitions to be the presidential nominee of the Republican party. Many of his close business associates were fearful that he would publicly proclaim his political ambitions. Knowing he hadn't the ghost of a chance to get the nomination, they were afraid of what a resounding repudiation might do to their chief's ego.

I had a talk with the Colonel, in his eerie in the Tribune tower, shortly before the outcome of the Wisconsin primary made it clear that Governor Dewey would have no real contender for the Republican nomination. I asked him who, in his opinion, his party would nominate.

He looked at me very solemnly and said: "They may choose a man whose name is not mentioned at all."

Puzzled by this, I suggested one of the Middle Western governors. He brushed this aside. Of course, I had missed my cue. I should have said: "Why, Colonel, it's you!"

—SAYS DEWEY WAS WEAK—

Dewey, well aware of all this, chuckled over McCormick's high ambitions. The Colonel suppressed his ambitions, and finally the Tribune swallowed Dewey as the nominee. In his interview the other day, however, McCormick made it clear how difficult that swallowing act was.

"Dewey," he said, "was a weak nominee. That is shown not by his being defeated, but by the fact that he ran behind practically every other Republican candidate who was elected, and when they were defeated he was defeated by a larger majority."

Enlarging on the need for western control, McCormick went on to say that only one Republican nominee from New York had ever been elected, and that was Theodore Roosevelt, who had first been elected as vice president. Lincoln, Grant, Garfield, Hayes, Harrison and Harding all came from the Middle West, said the Colonel.

In calling for a new GOP alignment, it is just possible that Col. McCormick has shown more forthrightness and realism than those who oppose him within his party. The Republican party cannot exist half slave and half free—half isolationist and half, for want of a better word, internationalist.

It gets down, then, to this. Is the Colonel to take over the party and make it the party of nationalism? Or is the party to purge the Colonel and thereby, presumably, free him to start a new nationalist party? A great deal may depend on the answers to these questions.

Good Morning!

—By The Bugler—

FOUND—The other day the Bugler presented the story of a little black book, the 1897 Road Book of the Michigan division of the League of American Wheelmen. The members of the League of American Wheelmen were the sponsors of the good roads movement in Michigan and elsewhere in the nation.

Dunathan

The book was found on a window ledge in the editorial rooms of the Daily Press and no one seemed to know from where it had come. Then the first article was written, and that brought a Sunday telephone call from Ed Martinson, Daily Press circulation manager, who solved the mystery of the little black book.

Martinson had received it from August Olinger of 307 North 16th street, had brought it to the Press office and turned it over to Sports Editor Ken Gunderman, who had placed it on the window ledge in Managing Editor Bill Duchaine's office.

"If you'll look on the inside of the front cover you'll find Olinger's membership card in the League of American Wheelmen," Martinson said.

Sure enough, the paper on the inside cover had been slit, and there was the card, showing that Olinger was member No. 185628, and was in good standing until Sept. 17, 1898. The card has a slogan "We Want Good Roads." It was the bicycle riders such as Olinger and his fellow "wheelmen" who successfully led the fight for paved roads in Michigan and brought about the creation of the Michigan State Highway Department.

THE HELPING HAND—Any fund raising campaign that has the support of the Carpenters Union, Local No. 1832, in Delta County is certain to have a helpful ally, for the Carpenters and Joiners can dig up a thousand dollars or so by sponsoring a dance. They have done it before and they are going to do it again.

In their first dance, sponsored for the benefit of the Crippled Children fund, the Carpenters raised $1,080. Their second dance, to aid the Red Cross at its last national drive, netted $1,006.

Now the Carpenters Union is sponsoring a dance for the benefit of the Delta county War Fund and community chest, which is having a difficult time climbing to that $40,000 goal line. The Carpenters Union dance will be held at the Coliseum the night of December 8, and if past experience is any proof the War Fund will be aided to the tune of a thousand or so.

This would be a good time to repeat that: The Delta county War Fund and community chest drive is to raise funds to maintain the USO, United Seamen's Service, War Prisoners Aid, Boy Scouts, Salvation Army, Campfire Girls and other local agencies.

LICENSED OWNERS—A new answer to the annual controversy over dog control, which comes up every spring with the perennials, has been suggested by Harry Miller of New York City, executive secretary of the Gaines Dog Research Center.

The average pet is just about what his owner makes him, says Miller. Therefore he proposes that instead of licensing the dog, the license should be on the dog owner where it properly belongs.

Prior to his licensing, the dog owner would be qualified as to his ability to provide the dog a good home, as well as the exercise training, etc., the dog requires.

Only through some new such system of licensing can most of the present-day dog afflictions be done away with, and more useful, happier lives for the pets assured, Miller believes. In most sections of the country there is a growing sentiment toward the use of dog license fees in a manner directly beneficial to the dog, he reports.

Saturday marked the close of one of the most successful seasons Escanaba high school has experienced. Against Michigan teams the eleven has scored 221 points to its opponent's seven, Calumet being the only team to cross the local's goal line.

Considerable sentiment is being expressed in some communities against the practice of using dog tax funds for non-dog purposes never anticipated by those who put the dog licenses on the statute books, Miller adds.

Over near Manistique, with Ted driving the Chapekis car, they had two blow outs. In Manistique they were told that one tire could be repaired but that the other could not.

With the repaired tire they were looking for a ride back to their car and went over to a gas station, leaving the tire "for not more than a minute and a half," said Ted.

They came out of the gas station went back to pick up the tire—and it was gone! Tire, tube and rim had been stolen by "the meanest man in the world."

After considerable difficulty they managed to have the old spare put in condition, although at first they were told it could not be fixed. Then they drove very, very slowly back to Escanaba.

NEW YORK—Fame: Brock Pemberton, producer of "Harvey," has in this play one of the biggest hits of his career. He's waited a long time for this hit, but he's a patient man. . . . Once a play-wright friend of his moved to an apartment across the street from the theatre where his play was being presented, and spent the evenings looking out the window at his name in lights. . . . "I can understand this playwright's behavior, for we all like to see our name in lights," said Pemberton. "I like it too, even though I've seen it only a week or two weeks at a time."

BET: Joseph C. Harsch, the war correspondent, is anxious to reach Pierre Laval before the French traitor is shot. Laval owes him 100 francs, by reason of a bet they made in Paris after the fall of France. Laval at that time predicted that England soon would be invaded. "I'll wager 100 francs that Germany wins the war," said Laval. . . . "Okay," said Harsch. "Do you want to make it a thousand?" . . . "No. Not a thousand. One hundred," replied Laval, who was gambling his head on Germany's victory. "You see, I'm really not a betting man."

PROBLEM: John Mason Brown, now on the Navy's inactive list, told the Herald Tribune's Book and Author luncheon Tuesday about the problems which beset himself in the war. On the plane which was flying him to England he asked a Navy man what time it was. "You have the latitude and the longitude," said the Navy man, "so figure it out for yourself!" . . . In London Brown presided at a Brain Trust show. One of the questions was "Do you feel that Princess Elizabeth should marry an American?" One Brain Trustster answered: "I scarcely think that would be legal."

WEALTH: The Treasury Dept.'s recent list of high-salaried people showed Louis B. Mayer, as usual, with a million-dollar income. Mayer, now recuperating from a riding accident, once was asked by a forthright employee who read his name on the Treasury list: "Mr. Mayer, are you a happy man?" ## The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

(Lt. Col. Robert S. Allen now on active service with the Army)

Washington—One thing puzzling the American public is the fact that, despite the widely announced great naval victory of the Philippines, the Japs still are able to land troops on Leyte—in fact, landed them even while the great naval battle was in progress.

Inside explanation for the mystery goes to the doorsteps of three gentlemen so high-up that nobody can do much about them—Franklin Roosevelt, General MacArthur and Admiral Halsey.

In the opinion of a good many naval experts, the Battle of the Philippines, although a very definite victory, was not as big and overwhelming as the three above-named gentlemen made it out to be.

In fact, when Admiral Halsey sent his first dramatic communication to the Navy Department telling how he had decimated the Jap fleet, the Department cabled back that they didn't believe his victory was as great as he claimed and they advised him to put the lid on news releases.

However, the Halsey dispatch was sent as a matter of routine to the White House, where it went first of all to Roosevelt's Chief of Staff, Admiral Leahy. Ever-cautious Leahy also was troubled about it, advised that the news be played down rather than up.

But even while he held the dispatch in his hand and was discussing it with others in the White House, news came over the ticker that General MacArthur had announced a great naval victory. As the top commander in the Philippine theatre, MacArthur has the right to issue any communiqué—even regarding naval victories, though the Navy doesn't and, in this case, certainly didn't like it.

Following the MacArthur announcement, the President went out whole hog. Calling a special press conference, he announced the greatest naval victory of the war.

Although a real victory, the chief of Navy press relations probably was more accurate when, last week, he expressed the cold opinion that the Battle of the Philippines had not materially shortened the war in the Pacific.

—EASY TO OVERESTIMATE—
The first enthusiastic announcements from the Philippines are understandable. It is easy to overestimate damage to the enemy.

During the first stage of the battle, for instance, a U. S. plane reported that it had struck the giant Jap battleship Yamamoto, named for the late Jap admiral, and that a great burst of flame and smoke had spurted forth, convincing the aviator that the battle-wagon had been seriously, perhaps mortally injured.

Later, Admiral Halsey reported that the same battleship Yamamoto was engaging in combat with him. Apparently what happened was that the Yamamoto was struck on the deck, setting off some ammunition. But it takes more than deck hits to sink a modern battleship.

Probably the most interesting phase of the Navy's communiques on the Battle of the Philippines was its alibi on why Admiral Halsey "diverted part of his force southward." This gave away the hitherto unpublished fact that Halsey had chased a wing of the Jap fleet south and was not near Leyte to help Admiral Kinkaid make the final kill.

Admiral Kinkaid had in his fleet the old battleships West Virginia, Maryland, Tennessee, California and Pennsylvania, badly damaged at Pearl Harbor but repaired. Admiral Halsey's fleet consisted of bigger, more modern, more powerful vessels. Part of the strategy was to lure the Japs in to attack Kinkaid's older vessels; then Halsey, with his more modern fleet, would come in for the kill.

But Halsey got lured away. An admiral with fewer victories to his credit might have been disciplined, though any officer in the heat of battle makes mistakes.

Result, however, was that the naval victory could have been greater and that many U. S. ships were damaged, now have to be repaired. Also, there has been no announcement of U. S. transports lost.

—WINNING THE WAR—

Winning the war isn't all a question of G. I. Joes, tanks, planes, guns and ships. For instance, the War Department's huge Pentagon Building, one of the Government's greatest bureaucracies, operates the following odd divisions:

The follow-up branch; the forms, design and curriculum development branch; the program balance branch; the coordination and analysis branch; the relations and welfare branch; the projects status branch; the determination section; the war flow section; the forecasting and general modification branch.

These are just some of the little things that help make the war wheels go around. In addition, the Army Medical Corps maintains an epidemiology division and a neuro-psychiatry consultants division, while the Signal Corps has a nomenclature division. There are 28 marshals in the Pentagon Building, but only one full general—George C. Marshall.

PLAN HEARINGS ON FISHERIES

Tentatively Scheduled For Early Spring, Says Bradley

Problems affecting Great Lakes commercial fishermen will be considered at hearings of the house merchant marine and fisheries subcommittee on fisheries tentatively scheduled for February or March, Rep. Fred Bradley of Rogers City states in his weekly news letter.

"Here on the Great Lakes, our committee has been concerned with numerous problems," Rep. Bradley writes. "First of all, we have been concerned about the discrepancy between the Canadian and American fishing laws as well as the discrepancies between the laws of the several states. Our local picture has been recently aggravated and our commercial fishermen considerably disturbed by the fact that our own Michigan department of conservation this spring started to enforce its regulations based on the flexible gage. In the enforcement of its net size regulations, judged by this flexible gage, many fishermen have had their nets seized and some have been hauled into court charged with violation. Naturally, this has tended to cause much fear and consternation among our commercial fishermen.

"Furthermore, the state of Michigan undertakes to legislate and enforce fishing laws in the Great Lakes, and yet, according to official Washington, the Great Lakes waters are not part of the state of Michigan, and, therefore, there is some question in my mind as to the legality of the state of Michigan enforcing its conservation laws on the waters of the Great Lakes."

Millions Switch To Mutton Suet Idea For Chest Colds
Quickly Relieves Children's Colds, Coughs, Loosens Phlegm

Many mothers all over America are switching to this idea of getting fast relief for these chest cold miseries. They are simply following Grandma. For years she counted on mutton suet to help carry her home medication to do its pain-easing work on nerve ends in the skin. No wonder so many more now welcome Grandma's idea as improved by science—Penetro, with its multi-medicated formula in a base containing mutton suet—that acts both as counter-irritant and pain-reliever when you spread it on, and as a soothing aromatic when breathed in. And so today Penetro hurries along never help in the old reliable way—helps that eases painful miseries, lessens coughing, loosens phlegm, soothes chest rawness—so that you can rest more comfortably and give nature a chance to restore vitality. That's why millions are switching to Penetro today—why druggists are recommending it, 25c, double supply 35c. For all your family's chest cold miseries, be sure you get white, easy-to-use Penetro.

EXPANSION OF PHONES SEEN

Industry To Make Many Improvements In Postwar Era

The telephone industry today stands united on a postwar program to advance the expansion and improvement of rural telephone service throughout the United States.

A joint committee has been formed of representatives of Bell System and independent companies to carry forward the postwar programs which the various companies have been working on individually, it is announced. In this state, the committee represents the Michigan Bell Telephone Company and 169 independent companies.

Co-chairmen of the committee are John P. Boylan, of Rochester, N. Y., president of the United States Independent Telephone Association; and Keith S. McHugh, of New York, vice-president of the American Telephone and Telegraph company.

"Rural telephone service is more highly developed in this country, under the American system of private enterprise, than in any other in the world," a joint statement by Boylan and McHugh said. "However, it is by no means as highly developed as we in the industry intend to see it, and the industry intends to do everything in its power to provide more service, and better service, at a cost which the farmer can afford."

"Over one-half million miles of telephone pole lines serving rural areas already have been built so that more than two-thirds of all rural families in the United States can be served from existing lines. Since 1935, more than 500,000 additional families in rural areas have become telephone subscribers—an increase of 35 per cent. One of the major objectives is to continue this upward trend by making the service over existing lines increasingly valuable and attractive."

LAST ORE BOAT CLEARS HARBOR

Steamer L. W. Hill Has 9,800 Ton Cargo For Detroit

The ore shipping season in Escanaba officially closed last night as the steamer L. W. Hill, of the Hannah Steamship company, cleared the Escanaba harbor with a cargo of 9,800 tons of ore for Detroit.

Total tonnage shipped from Escanaba during the 1944 season is 5,778,256 tons, approximately a half million tons under the record ore movement of 6,330,265 tons shipped last year.

F. M. Fernstrom, dock agent, reported yesterday that this was the first year in many years that not a single car of ore required steaming because of freezing weather. No trouble was encountered with ore freezing in the pockets and navigation conditions for the freighters were unusually good throughout the year.

Work on the repair of the two Chicago and North Western docks has already begun and crews engaged in ore shipping will now be transferred to the repair program.

Worry Clinic

With Case Records Of
A Psychologist

BY DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE D-284: Jimmy M., aged 5, came into the room where I was being entertained at tea by his mother and other members of her club.

"Isn't he a pretty boy?" one of the ladies exclaimed.

"He looks so cute in that sailor suit," another added.

"That is a very good picture of a cat," a third woman spoke approvingly, as she surveyed a crayon drawing that Jimmy held in his hand.

"But I think the cat would be able to see better if he had another eye, don't you think so, Jimmy?"

Diagnosis
Which one of the three ladies was the best applied psychologist, as measured by the remarks just quoted?

It was the third woman, for she did not praise the boy, but kept the spotlight upon his product, namely, his drawing.

There is a universal tendency to praise the child in such a family or social situation.

We thus predispose him to feel important for no accomplishment of his own.

His handsomeness he inherits, so it is his ancestors who should be complimented for that.

His suit was chosen by his mother, so Jimmy has no claim to that, although the woman who praised his sailor uniform was using better psychology than the first lady, for she did take the spotlight off Jimmy and direct it to a nearby portion of the environment, namely his clothes.

Praise the Deed
Many of our young men and women thus have been educated to preen themselves because of their family name or their good clothes, instead of realizing that personal accomplishment should be the chief cause for elation.

If we praise a child's drawing or his erect posture or his other good deeds, we not only take the spotlight off the child and focus it upon his work, but we further encourage him to do more of those same good deeds.

But by praising the child, we tend to puff up his ego and produce a superiority complex. He tends to become a snob, for he thinks HE is important.

A. R. M. 1/c Craig Johnston and wife, the former Erlaine Legg, have returned to their home in Hutchinson, Kan., having been called here on account of the death of Mrs. Charles Johnston.

WE,
the WOMEN

BY RUTH MILLETT

At last women ought to be able to understand the look that comes on a man's face when he opens a package containing a "Christmas necktie"—the kind hastily picked out by a woman hurrying to an important appointment with her hairdresser.

Because women are getting that same incredulous look on their faces these days when they open packages from their men overseas.

A sweater skirt for the baby. A box of gossamer for the wife who never was and never will be a sweater girl. A solid silver candle snuffer. A good-sized model of a native boat for a child whose mother is living in a small apartment with no place to put anything.

A box of native jewelry for the woman who wears "simple black" costumes. Heady perfume with a seductive name for the woman who has been living alone and trying to like it for two or three years.

No wonder the women look startled—when they see what their men folks, left entirely on their own, consider appropriate gifts.

The only reason the women aren't used to gifts bought with such carefree masculine abandon is that when their men are at home their women see to it that they happen to know just what to buy the little woman.

Either, when an anniversary, birthday, or Christmas approaches the woman gently steers the man (several times if he is absent-minded) by a store window saying, "Isn't that lovely? And wouldn't it be just right for my new suit?" Or she manages even better if her husband is the kind who turns the buying of his wife's gift over to her best friend. Then it's simple, as the best friend invariably gets in touch with the wife and says, "What do you want for Christmas? I'm going to buy your gift, and you might as well have just what you want."

So no wonder the women are surprised at the strange things men select as gifts when they are strictly on their own.

RECENT BRIDE — Mrs. Leo Lesneski, who became the bride of Corporal Lesneski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Antone Lesneski, of Harris, in a ceremony at Holy Trinity church in Hackensack, N. J., on Sunday, October 15, is the former Josephine Dellasala, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dellasala. The bride is a school teacher and a teacher of music in that community and her husband is located at a hospital base in Pawling, N. Y.

Because women are getting that same incredulous look on their faces these days when they open packages from their men overseas.

A sweater skirt for the baby. A box of gossamer for the wife who never was and never will be a sweater girl. A solid silver candle snuffer. A good-sized model of a native boat for a child whose mother is living in a small apartment with no place to put anything.

A box of native jewelry for the woman who wears "simple black" costumes. Heady perfume with a seductive name for the woman who has been living alone and trying to like it for two or three years.

No wonder the women look startled—when they see what their men folks, left entirely on their own, consider appropriate gifts.

The only reason the women aren't used to gifts bought with such carefree masculine abandon is that when their men are at home their women see to it that they happen to know just what to buy the little woman.

Either, when an anniversary, birthday, or Christmas approaches the woman gently steers the man (several times if he is absent-minded) by a store window saying, "Isn't that lovely? And wouldn't it be just right for my new suit?" Or she manages even better if her husband is the kind who turns the buying of his wife's gift over to her best friend. Then it's simple, as the best friend invariably gets in touch with the wife and says, "What do you want for Christmas? I'm going to buy your gift, and you might as well have just what you want."

So no wonder the women are surprised at the strange things men select as gifts when they are strictly on their own.

SEALS LAUDED BY GOVERNOR

Welfare Club Sends Out Quotas To Local Residents

Tuberculosis seals to help finance tuberculosis control work in Gladstone and the state will be received by local residents this week. The seals were placed in the mail yesterday by a Child's Welfare club committee headed by Mrs. J. D. Staple.

Mrs. Staple said yesterday that in the past the response has been generous and the public has cooperated very well. If more seals are desired by anyone they may contact any member of the committee. Contributing toward the fund is entirely voluntary, the chairman pointed out, and persons not desiring the seals should return them immediately.

The annual seal sale, which opened yesterday and runs until Christmas has been heartily endorsed by Governor Kelly as an essential home front activity.

"Christmas, 1944," the governor said, "is the thirty-sixth anniversary of the sale of the first tuberculosis Christmas seals in Michigan."

The Michigan Tuberculosis association, with the help of warm hearted citizens who have purchased seals, has waged a telling fight against this dread disease. Since 1908, the tuberculosis death rate has decreased by two-thirds.

He pointed out that this success was not justification for relaxing the effort to control tuberculosis. Wartime conditions have caused the tuberculosis death rate to increase for the first time in many years. "Because a healthy people is essential to victory," the governor said, "we cannot afford to lose the initiative in this great home front battle against death."

"Therefore, as governor of this state, which has been called 'the Arsenal of Democracy,'" he continued, "I urge the people of Michigan to support wholeheartedly the 1944 tuberculosis Christmas seal sale."

Three-Legged Deer Shot Near Carlson's Camp, Haymeadow

Throughout his lifetime as an innkeeper, J. P. Carlson collected curios and he had hundreds of them at his museum in Kipling. He never made a practice of keeping them at his camp on the Haymeadow River but Sunday Glenn Ohman, Route 1 Gladstone, who is a guest at Carlson's camp, showed him he had at least one near the camp. Ohman downed a fair sized buck and found it had but three legs. One had been shot off at the knee, probably in a previous season, and the wound had healed over.

Two other Gladstone hunters who filled their licenses are Armand LaPointe, who downed a fine 10 pointer, and Allan Erickson. Both were hunting near Six Oaks, Burt Ames camp near Farm Lake.

Joseph Ouradnik had a near miss in more ways than one when he went hunting Wednesday. As he and his companion, Billy Hermes, rode along by the Mellon farm in his pickup truck, casually conversing and in no way on the alert for game, they were literally jolted to attention by the impact of a big buck across the truck. The animal desperate in flight was springing across the highway and struck the back window of the cab with its large horns but inflicted no damage. Though they stopped and tried to fill a license the deer got away despite a broken leg, and all they had to show were a lot of hairs.

FINAL FUND APPEAL MADE

Effort Being Made To Get County Out Of Cellar Position

Deeply concerned over the fact that Schoolcraft county is at the very bottom of the list among counties in Michigan in the War Chest fund drive now drawing to a close, letters are being sent out this week to workers in local industrial plants who have not contributed.

The office of the Schoolcraft County War Relief Board has compiled from its records some interesting figures as to the ratio of employees in various plants who are meeting their obligations. In one large local plant only 17 per cent of the employees had donated to the cause and in another only 5 per cent of the employees had contributed. The Michigan Dimension company, on the other hand had donations from 93 per cent of its employees.

The fund to date is short by $2,509.65.

Employees of plants which are down on the list will be solicited with one last appeal by the board. They will receive the following letter in the mail the first of the week:

Dear Sir:

According to our records you have not donated towards the Schoolcraft County War Chest. The best way to bring about the defeat of Hitler and Hirohito is to give to the United War Fund.

In thousands upon thousands of American homes today there is pride and sadness. From these homes have come our fighting men who have brought us thus far on the road to decisive victory over our enemies.

It will take more sweat, more tears, more toil, more and greater individual sacrifice before we see Germany and Japan in the ruins these barbarians planned for us. How much more sweat and tears depends upon every individual in America.

Schoolcraft county's United War Fund is short $2,942.00 of its quota. Our boys on every front are giving 100 per cent and more. We at home must not let them down. Schoolcraft county cannot and will not fail.

Won't you please sign the enclosed card and hand it in at once so that your contribution can be deducted from your pay.

Cordially yours,
G. J. Nicholson, Chairman
Schoolcraft County War Chest.

Verlin LaVance

Arrives Overseas

Verlin LaVance has landed safely in Europe. His mother, Mrs. Ed Genereux, 342 North Cedar street, received a letter from him the first of the week in which he states that he has landed in what seems suspiciously like England.

"This is a pretty country but the weather is all drizzle all of the time," he writes, then adds, "but of course, when you get used to it it is all right. Taverns are called 'pubs' and beer is called 'bitters.' It tastes like apple cider and stale beer mixed."

There is also a suspicion that the lad is a bit homesick for though he writes interestingly of things he has seen—among other things a visit in New York before he embarked—he mentions every so often "I like the home town best of all."

He is, however, proud and happy over making the grade for he says: "Ed and Mack said I wouldn't get across, but I fooled them."

Brothers Arrive In England Same Day

A letter from each of her sons, in entirely different branches of the service was received Friday by Mrs. R. J. Besner, 132 N. Houghton Avenue.

That was coincidental, but the unusual thing about it was the fact that both had announced that they had arrived safe and sound in England on the same day, and according to Mrs. Besner, more than likely unaware of the near presence of each other.

One son, Captain R. Francis Besner is with the 276th Engineers while the other, Pfc. G. Besner, is with the 309th Infantry, AEF 78.

Department Gets Two Fire Calls

The Fire department responded to two calls Friday night. One call was to the home of Austin Gardner, at 814 Arbutus Avenue, where an overheated chimney had burst into flame, and the other was a false alarm that brought the trucks racing madly to the Herb Rosen residence at 627 Manistique avenue. There was no damage in either instance.

ESKYMOS WILL MEET TROJANS

Local Teams Ready For Basketball Opener Here Friday

The Escanaba high school basketball team will play its opening game of the season here Friday night against St. Joseph high school at the Wm. Bonifas gymnasium. It will be the Trojan's first appearance at home, but the St. Joseph team opened its season last Friday at Marinette, losing to Lourdes, 29 to 3.

Although the Trojans were anything but spectacular in their initial performance of the season, Coach Fred Boddy reported that his lads have shaken their stage fright that plagued them at Marinette and are ready to give the Eskymos a real battle.

The Wisconsin rules, which disregard the 10 second rule used in Michigan, proved troublesome to the St. Joseph team Friday but the Trojans hasten to add that this in itself hardly accounted for the inability of the St. Joseph lads to split the mesh.

Coach Ruvich has been experimenting with a lineup consisting of the five returning lettermen—Schils, Scott, Dufour, Finn and Ohman.

Prospective Landis Successor Says He Will Refuse Offer

BY CHARLES DUNKLEY

Chicago, Nov. 27. (AP)—Leslie M. O'Connor, the man most widely mentioned as the likely successor to the late Kenesaw Mountain Landis as commissioner of baseball, will decline that office if it is proffered him.

Secretary to Landis since the major leagues created the commission 24 years ago O'Connor asserted today he would refuse any nomination for the job should they develop at the winter meeting of the National and American circuits here Dec. 11-12.

"I have a short life to live," 56-year-old O'Connor declared, "and I want none of that job. It's a killer."

His disinclination to assume the commissioner's post though, pointed more than ever towards a likely three-member commission composed of Will Harridge, president of the American league; Ford Frick, National league president, and O'Connor himself.

SAGINAW GRID TEAM UNBEATEN

Carl Nordberg's Squad Claims Michigan Championship

Carl Nordberg, former Escanaba high school coach, has directed his Saginaw high school football team to its first undefeated, untied season since 1907. The Saginaw team lays claim to the state championship by virtue of its nine consecutive victories.

Saginaw completed its season Thanksgiving Day with a 13 to 6 victory over Saginaw Arthur Hill high school. The season's record of Coach Nordberg's Saginaw high school football team follows:

Saginaw 27, Muskegon Heights 6
Saginaw 6, Lansing Sexton 0
Saginaw 13, Mt. Pleasant 0
Saginaw 25, Flint Central 0
Saginaw 19, Pontiac 6
Saginaw 13, Flint Northern 7
Saginaw 10, Bay City 2
Saginaw 25, Owosso 6
Saginaw 13, Arthur Hill 6
Totals 159, Opponents 34.

The victory of Saginaw over Arthur Hill, traditional intra-city rivals, was the fifth in six years for Coach Nordberg's team, a noteworthy achievement in itself.

Saginaw's claim to the state championship may be contested by the state's three other major unbeaten teams, but Douglas Walker, of Saginaw, former Escanaba, reports that two of those teams, Grand Rapids South and Mackinac of Detroit played no teams outside their own areas. These two, along with Muskegon, each played one less game than Saginaw, Walker reported.

Walker wrote, "Coach Nordberg did a splendid job in steering his boys into the Saginaw Valley state championships. Hard tackling and blocking, sharp and aggressive line play, and good generalship featured his team. The physical stamina of the players, the product of thorough conditioning, was outstanding. During time out the Saginaw boys were always on their feet."

The refusal of the Big Ten board of faculty representatives to lift its ban on postseason football games in order to permit Ohio State to play in the Rose Bowl does not come as any surprise, in view of the board's repeated opposition to postseason games in previous years. Educators have long stood firmly against postseason athletic contests, not only in the Big Ten but in many other areas as well. A similar rule for high schools is in effect in Michigan. Educators claim that too much emphasis upon athletics is harmful and serves to overbalance the place of athletics in the educational program.

Virtually everybody interested in athletics—except the faculty representatives of the Big Ten—would like to see Ohio State play in the Rose Bowl game. There was some talk a year or two ago of having the Big Ten champions and the Pacific Coast champs play the Rose Bowl game every year, but nothing came of this, probably because of the attitude of the Big Ten faculty representatives against postseason football. This arrangement, however, would be a good one because the two conferences annually produce teams that are among the nation's football leaders.

Admittedly postseason football could be bad taste if it developed to the point where a team was running all over the country for weeks after the regular schedule was completed, playing a series of games. It does not, however, seem wrong for a team to be rewarded for a brilliant season by selection in a single postseason game. Competitive athletics have proved their place in American life. From an educational standpoint, athletics have made as great a contribution to American society as have the lecturing professors.

The Rose Bowl football game at Pasadena has become a part of American tradition. It is a distinct honor to any school to have its football team selected to play in this sports classic. Why the Big Ten should continue to deprive its members of eligibility for this honor and prestige is difficult to understand. In effect, the attitude of the board of faculty representatives in refusing its members to participate in the Rose Bowl game brands the Pasadena classic as an undesirable athletic feature, detrimental to the best interests of American education. The American public, however, will never accept that theory.

GRANGE HEADS NEW PRO LOOP

United States Football League Launched With 8 Teams For 1945

Chicago, Nov. 27. (AP)—Headed by football's famous Harold (Red) Grange, the United States Football League today formally entered the professional gridiron ring, announcing plans for an eight-team loop starting in 1945.

Grange, famed as the "Gallop of Ghost" at the University of Illinois two decades ago, was elected president of the new circuit at a meeting here last week-end which closed with announcement that eight cities—Akron, Baltimore, Boston, Philadelphia, Washington, Chicago, New York and Honolulu—were granted franchises.

Grange disclosed that the league was incorporated under Illinois laws, would set up headquarters in Chicago and had collected $10,000 guarantees from each of the prospective clubs.

Grange, in recent years a football author and radio broadcaster, declared that he had investigated "the whole pro setup" and felt certain there was room for a rival to the long-established National Football League. "Our club owners are all good businessmen—not millionaires—but they're not entering this thing on just a gamble," Grange asserted.

He said his league had no "axe to grind" with the National league, the proposed All-America conference or other projected leagues. "We will not attempt to sign any players under contract with the National league, but as far as players they claim under the draft, that's another story. The final choice should be up to the player, himself."

Experts Say Army Will Defeat Navy Saturday

New York, Nov. 27. (AP)—Army will defeat Navy in the football game of the season at Baltimore Saturday.

The latter two found room in the elite grouping when the Fourth Air Force and Georgia Tech slipped to lower rankings.

Notre Dame skidded out of the top 10 for the first time since October, 1942 two weeks ago following its defeat by Army. It sank even further last week despite the Ramblers' triumph over North western but returned this time on the strength of its 21 to 0 conquest of Georgia Tech.

It is the first appearance in the select circle this season for Tennessee, unbeaten but tied and the East's representative in the Jan. 1 Rose Bowl contest. Southern California, the Vols' rival in that game, outranks Tennessee by three positions and 136 points.

Neither Army nor Navy played last weekend while the Buckeyes completed their first unbeaten season since 1920 by spilling Michigan, 18 to 14. Randolph Field found the Amarillo Army Air Base a stronger foe than the 33 to 0 score indicates.

Leading teams, determined on a basis of 10 votes for each first place vote, nine for second, eight for third, etc. (First place votes in parenthesis):

Top Ten
Army (55½)	737
Navy (1)	624
Ohio State (8)	507
Randolph Field (5½)	507
Bainbridge (11½)	362
Iowa Pre-Flight (1)	271
Southern California	237
Michigan	232
Notre Dame	127
Tennessee	101

tainly is a great blocker. Our boys never surrendered.

Old Professor: Mr. Neely, when does nothing amount to something?

Joe Neely, Rice: Well, folks keep saying TCU has nothing, but they must have something—they stopped us on the two-yard line and on the one-yard line and it takes something to do that. We waited 30 minutes to start playing football, and threw too many passes to TCU.

Leo "Dutch" Meyer, Texas Christian: I wouldn't have given a plugged penny for our chances when Rice had the ball on the one-yard line only seconds to go, but this TCU team is a great bunch of kids.

Old Professor: No argument there, sir. Mr. Lewandowski, do you know the difference between right and wrong?

Ad Lewandowski, Nebraska: Yes sir. Everything goes right some days, as it did for us in spite of the rain and everything. The third team made two touchdowns and we're going to try our darndest against Oklahoma. Fullback Junior Collopy played a whale of a game for us.

Ward Haylett, Kansas State: I like everything about Nebraska except the darned old weather. It's always a jinx. Guard Russell Hardin was right after them for us.

Old Professor: Any comment, Mr. McEver?

Gene McEver, North Carolina: Well, I'm proud of my boys. Bad tackling hurt us, but that fellow Hardin really stood out in the Duke line. However, one runner in our backfield would have made a difference.

Eddie Cameron, Duke: Davis played one of the best games of his career. However, Clark Carver and Knotts lived up to expectations. The game was a lot closer than the score would indicate.

Old Professor: And the end of this last period of ours isn't just close. It's here. Good day, gentlemen, and have a pleasant winter.
